Organizational Overview

The U.S. Army Test and Evaluation Command provides independent assessment for Army acquisition programs. ATEC has various test centers located throughout the country to support its mission.

Key Tasks:
- Plan, prepare and execute rigorous and operationally realistic tests for the Army and informative evaluation results.
- Sustain and continue to develop world-class test facilities that ensure ATEC can provide for current and future T&E mission requirements.

Acquisition opportunities are executed for ATEC and its test centers through the Army Contracting Command (ACC) at APG and through the MICC at Fort Hood, Texas.

This APBI provides information regarding current and future ATEC service contracts that are expected to be awarded by ACC APG. Information regarding contracts expected to be awarded by MICC Fort Hood will be provided in a separate APBI.
